This is an excellent opportunity for an ambitious graduate who is keen to progress their technical and professional skills. In this role, you will play a central role in the Atomic product creation team, supporting the development of ski apparel, logo wear and gear products from early-stage prototypes through to buy-ready products.

KEY MISSION AND ACCOUNTABILITIES:

- Actively provide administrative support to Development Manager and product team to ensure smooth running of sample management, organisation, and general administration
- Measure prototype samples and size sets before fitting to ensure they conform to specifications
- Coordinate, and actively participate in team meetings and fit sessions, manage fitting calendar, prepare sample spaces, assist with photography, notes and documentation as needed
- Maintain PLM system (Centric) to secure documentation and transfer of key product data, such as BOM's, colour specifications, size charts and product costing sheets
- Collate field test information and assist in product reviews to ensure performance standards are met
- Day-to-day communication with global supply chain partners and internal collaborators

YOUR PROFILE AND REQUIRED COMPETENCIES:

- Ideal for either a recent university graduate or equivalent work experience, such as a first or second job within the fashion or sportswear industry
- Sound understanding of textile technology, garment construction, manufacturing processes and testing; keen to expand technical knowledge and industry specific skillset as the role demands
- Excellent attention to detail with a strong sense of ownership and accountability
- Highly organized with ability to manage multiple priorities, work at pace and meet tight deadlines
- Ability to work on own initiative as well as part of a team, with a proactive and collaborative mindset

- High level of computer literacy with excellent working knowledge of Microsoft Office including Excel
- Ability to communicate effectively with overseas suppliers and working with different cultures
- Passionate about skiing and the greater outdoors

WHAT WE OFFER:

- A varied, demanding and self-responsible activity in the Sports Industry
- Comprehensive development and training opportunities
- Flexible working hours and home office possibility
- Attractive social and employee benefits
- Canteen on site

The annual collective agreement's minimum salary for this position is € 30.000 gross. Depending on your personal qualifications and vocational experience, we offer an appropriate payment in excess thereof for this highly responsible activity and opportunities for development in a globally active group of companies.

If the scope of these responsibilities meets your expectations, please be welcome to apply online with all usual application documents.
