

Starting August/September 2021, we are seeking a:

Content Creation Seasonaire

(m/f/d)

The Role

We are looking for a motivated video creator to take our content to the next level. In this role, you will join our marketing team on all on-snow shoots during the upcoming ski season. When off the mountain, you will support our content manager with the post production process and edit videos into multiple formats for launch across Carv's social channels!

We create a mix of educational skiing content, product value stories, as well as a range of general skiing related content aimed at entertaining snowsports fanatics around the world. In this role, you will have the opportunity to work with professional skiers, using professional equipment in an array of ski resorts located in Austria, Switzerland, and North America. Take a look at what we've been getting up to so far on our Youtube Channel.

Our ideal candidate is someone who:

- Has a passion for skiing
- 2+ years video editing experience
- Strong all-around camera knowledge (frame rates, exposure etc)
- Competent skiing ability

Advantageous, but not required:

- German language
- Experience with Adobe After effects
- Experience with recording audio
- Basic understanding of skiing technique

What we are offering

- Season ski pass
- Opportunity to work/travel abroad
- Unique growth opportunities
- Young innovative team
- Hands-on experience in a fast-growing tech start-up
- Compensation package based on experience

About Us

Motion Metrics is creating a new category of sports technology by redefining the way skill-based sports are taught. We are growing at a rapid pace, recording over 40 million skiing turns, doubling our user-base and we will soon deliver more hours of ski coaching than almost every major ski resort in the world.
