

FRANZ FALTERMAIER PHOTOGRAPH

Franz Faltermaier is one of the few photographers who learned his trade from scratch. Through years of experience there is nothing Franz hasn't seen or taken pictures of. Especially in the area of outdoor photography he made a name for himself, as he spared no effort to tag along and accompany the athletes. This enthusiasm is due to trips in the remotest parts of the earth. His equipment is often limited to what he could carry in his backpack. Regardless he can still fulfill all jobs with his extensive camera equipment, on location or in the studio.
