About

Freelance events & logistics professional with a passion for hospitality, a love for travel and all-round board sports enthusiast. Graduating from hospitality business school in June, 2014 I set out to do what I love; creating memorable experiences in any way, shape or form.

Experience

Travel logistics

Taking people out of their offices and into the unknown; from the mountains of Croatia to the beaches of Thailand. Operating behind the scenes I make sure that every logistical detail is set and ready in order to create smooth and seamless operations.

Event production assistant

Support the production crew in any way and during any kind of event. Whether a trade show, corporate event, 100 pax boat party or a 40.000 pax trance festival, I provide assistance wherever it is needed.

Hospitality

Hospitality is the art of creating unforgettable experiences. Going the extra mile in order to exceed the participant's expectations generates a lasting impression and significantly increases the perceived quality
